Good Touch & Bad Touch Activity

In this activity, preschool children were introduced to the concept of safe and unsafe touches in an age-appropriate, sensitive manner. Using storytelling, puppets, and simple role-play, teachers explained that a good touch makes them feel safe, happy, and cared for (like a hug from parents), while a bad touch makes them feel uncomfortable, scared, or confused. Children learned the “No-Go-Tell” rule — say NO, get away from the situation, and TELL a trusted adult. Visual aids and interactive games were used to help children identify safe adults and safe spaces. The session ended with a group pledge to protect themselves and speak up if they ever feel unsafe.
